DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the third section (no reference number is shown on the drawings) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Applicant's amendment overcomes the objection to claim 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4,6-11,13-16 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The limitation recited in claims 1 and 8, "radial third section of the outer peripheral surface are substantially parallel to and extend along the longitudinal axis", is considered as new matter. This limitation must be removed from the claims or rewritten in a manner that is supported by the originally filed application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4,6-11,13-16 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Folmsbee (2,599,622) in view of Andersson et al. (4,129,144). Folmsbee discloses all of the features of the claimed invention, as discussed in the previous office action, although is silent to the valve as having a first section on the outer peripheral surface that is substantially parallel to and extends along the longitudinal axis. Andersson et al. discloses (in figure 9, near leader line 88), a first section (the section is considered as being part of the legs) on the outer peripheral surface that is substantially parallel to and extends along the longitudinal axis. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to employ the surface of Andersson et al. onto the valve of Folmsbee to have a radial first section, the radial second section and the radial third section of the outer peripheral surface are substantially parallel to and extend along the longitudinal axis, in order to guide the valve head to a more consistent valve seating surface and so the valve will not become cocked (Col.1, Lns. 9-15).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4,6-11,13-16 and 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's claim for the invention is that the undercut provides room for debris to flow through the constricted opening when the valve is in the open position. The valve of Folmsbee would perform equally as well, if not better than applicant's valve, as the filed drawings are depicted.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
